Dear Ms. Moryl:

On March 14, 1997, the members of the Rhode Island State Labor Relations Board met to review your letters of February 25, 1997 and February 11, 1997. They have instructed me to inform you that the Rhode Island State Labor Relations Act does not provide for a decertification process. Therefore, this Board has no statutory authority to take any further action on your request.

A copy of the Rhode Island State Labor Relations Act is enclosed for your review. Any action relative to representation issues must fall within those provisions relative to representation as outlined by the Act.

Very truly yours,

Donna M. Geoffroy
Agent of the Board
